CHAIRPERSON'S FOREWORD

I am very pleased to provide this annual report for the year ended 30 June 2015 to the Minister for Environment, Climate Change and Water the Hon Lisa Neville MP for the purpose of section 14 of the Victorian Environmental Assessment Council Act 2001.

During 2014-2015, the Victorian Environmental Assessment Council continued work on the Historic Places Investigation and began a major new investigation. Terms of reference for the new Statewide Assessment of Public Land were provided to VEAC in October 2014. This investigation arose from the view of the government that it was timely to revisit the statewide assessment of public land use conducted more than 25 years ago by VEAC's predecessor, the Land Conservation Council. Amended terms of reference for the investigation were received from the incoming Minister for Environment, Climate Change and Water in April 2015. The current assessment will provide updated information for public land management, and provide an excellent basis for future policy development.

Two public consultation periods were conducted during the year. The first public submission period for the Historic Places Investigation closed in September 2014. A public submission period also ran from April to June 2015 for the Statewide Assessment of Public Land. The council members also had two productive field inspections of historic places on public land, where we were able to discuss with public land managers the issues and challenges they face in managing the range of heritage places and values. Difficult to manage places are a particular focus of the investigation, and the insights gained from the field trips and discussions are invaluable.

During the year the council was very pleased again to assist students conducting research related to public land in Victoria with some of the costs of research. Seven students were awarded Bill Borthwick Student Scholarships in 2015.

This Council's term finished on 4 May 2015. I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to my colleagues, outgoing council members Mr Ian Harris, Mr Ian Munro PSM, both of whom served two terms on council 2009 - 2015, and Ms Angela Reidy, member from 2012 to 2015. Their individual and collective wisdom and experience were huge assets to VEAC, and I am grateful also for the support they provided to me as chairperson from 2012. I am very proud of the work we did together.

The council acknowledges the support it has received over the past year from its community reference groups, and from state government departments and agencies, local government, community organisations and interested members of the public. The council greatly appreciates both the dedication and high level expertise provided by Ms Joan Phillips and the VEAC secretariat team. Special thanks also to the Department of Environment, Land, Water and Planning who provide the administrative services and support for council to carry out its work.

INVESTIGATION INTO HISTORIC PLACES

On 11 March 2014 the Minister for Environment and Climate Change requested VEAC to conduct an investigation into historic places on public land in Victoria. The investigation will look at the overall arrangements for the management of information, the management of places and the opportunities to improve the current arrangements. In addition, the terms of reference specify a particular focus on historic places that are currently difficult to manage.

The investigation includes two submission periods with a draft proposals paper to be prepared and then a final report to be provided to the Minister on 31 March 2016. A separate discussion paper is not to be prepared.

The work program for the 2014-2015 year included the analysis of submissions in response to the Notice of Investigation published in June 2014. This first submission period closed on 8 September 2014 with 30 submissions being received. Work continued on the preparation of a draft proposals paper to be released for public comment in the second half of 2015.

Council members and VEAC staff conducted two field inspections during the year - in August and October 2014 - visiting a range of historic sites on public land and meeting with land managers.

The Community Reference Group for the investigation was established during the year and met three times. The membership for the Community Reference Group can be found on page 10.

Expenditure, including salaries and on-costs, for the Investigation into Historic Places for the 2014-15 financial year was $508,541.

The terms of reference for the Investigation into Historic Places are contained in the following box:

TERMS OF REFERENCE

This notice is made pursuant to section 15 of the Victorian Environmental Assessment Council Act 2001.

The Minister for Environment and Climate Change hereby requests the Victorian Environmental Assessment Council (the Council) to carry out a statewide investigation into historic places¹ on public land in Victoria.

The purpose of the Historic Places Investigation is to:

- a review current information and information sources on historic places on public land, including the representation of historical themes;
- b examine and provide an assessment of current information, management arrangements for historic places in Victoria and any issues and opportunities related to their future protection, use and sustainability; and
- c make recommendations for opportunities to improve management arrangements to conserve, protect and enhance the historic, community and educational values of these places, including the potential for sustainable use and adaptive re-use of historic assets.

In undertaking the investigation, the Council is requested to consider how best to manage and conserve the wide diversity of historic places on public land in the context of available resources, pressures on heritage places and emerging trends in heritage conservation. In particular, the investigation should focus on options for managing historic places that are currently difficult to manage.

In addition to the considerations in section 18 of the Victorian Environmental Assessment Council Act 2001, the Council must take into account the following matters:

- i. relevant State Government legislation, policies and strategies, Ministerial statements and reports by the Victorian Auditor-General;
- ii. agency databases for historic places assets;
- iii. relevant regional programs, strategies and plans; and
- iv. relevant agreements under the Traditional Owner Settlement Act 2010 and the Conservation, Forests and Lands Act 1987.

A draft proposals paper and a final report are to be prepared, allowing two public submission periods. A separate discussion paper is not to be prepared.

The Council must report on the completed investigation by 31 March 2016.

¹ For the purposes of this investigation, the term 'historic places' includes historic sites, buildings and associated objects. It does not include places associated with Aboriginal cultural heritage prior to contact with non-Aboriginal people (these are addressed by the Aboriginal Heritage Act 2006). It may include places relating to the post-contact period such as Aboriginal mission buildings.

STATEWIDE ASSESSMENT OF PUBLIC LAND

On 17 September 2014, the then Minister for Environment and Climate Change requested that VEAC conduct a Statewide Assessment of Public Land. On 2 April 2015 the request was amended by the Minister for Environment, Climate Change and Water.

The amended terms of reference provide for the preparation of a discussion paper and a draft proposals paper for public comment. An interim report is also required on the first term of reference by September 2015. The final report is due to be submitted to the Minister by February 2017.

The purpose of the investigation is to carry out a statewide assessment of public land in Victoria which considers the recommendations of the council and its predecessors and the system of public land use categories established as a result. The focus of the investigation is to provide information to assist management effectiveness and is not intended to change the current levels of protection underpinning Victoria's public land system.

A Notice of Investigation was published on 18 April 2015 and advertised in daily newspapers calling for written submissions. The submission period closed on 22 June 2015, with 49 submissions received.

The Community Reference Group for the investigation was established during the year and met once. The membership for the Community Reference Group can be found on page 10.

Expenditure, including salaries and on-costs, for the Statewide Assessment of Public Land for the 2014-15 financial year was $187,087.

AMENDED TERMS OF REFERENCE 2 APRIL 2015

Pursuant to section 15 of the Victorian Environmental Assessment Council Act 2001, the Minister for Environment, Climate Change and Water requests the Victorian Environmental Assessment Council to carry out an investigation into public land in Victoria.

It is more than 25 years since the Land Conservation Council's Statewide Assessment of Public Land Use was published and it is timely to consider revisiting aspects of that assessment in order to provide updated information for public land management. National Parks are recognised internationally as the core element of nature conservation and protection. Victoria's protected area estate is significant but remains fragmented and incomplete.

The purpose of the investigation is to carry out a statewide assessment of public land in Victoria which considers the recommendations of the council and its predecessors and the appropriateness of the current system of public land use categories established as a result. The focus of the investigation is to provide information and recommendations to assist management effectiveness and is not intended to change the current levels of protection underpinning Victoria's public land system.

In particular, the council is requested to investigate and provide:

- 1 an assessment of the current system of public land use categories, including identification and evaluation of approaches adopted in other jurisdictions nationally and internationally, and consideration of options for changing or consolidating the existing categories to result in a system of categories that is simple and clear and that supports effective and efficient public land management;
- 2 an assessment of the current reservation status of public land, including areas where land use has changed since government accepted a recommendation; and
- 3 an inventory of the types of values on public land.

The council is requested to provide an interim report on the first term of reference that includes options for the consolidation of the existing public land categories by September 2015. To ensure there is an opportunity for public comment, the council is requested to publish information to assist in the making of submissions on this term of reference in the notice of investigation.

The council must prepare a discussion paper and a draft proposals paper.

The council must report on the completed investigation by February 2017.

BILL BORTHWICK STUDENT SCHOLARSHIPS 2015

The Bill Borthwick Student Scholarships assist with some of the costs of research for students undertaking Honours, Masters or PhD research projects relating to public land in Victoria in the fields of natural sciences, humanities and social sciences, economics or politics.

The creation of the scholarships was announced by the Minister for Environment and Climate Change, the Hon. Ryan Smith MP, in March 2011 to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the first meeting of the Land Conservation Council (LCC). The scholarships honour the vision of the Hon. Bill Borthwick, Victoria's first Minister for Conservation and Deputy Premier from 1981 to 1982, and a central figure in establishing the LCC to advise government on the use of Victoria's public land.

The 2015 scholarships were presented to the recipients by VEAC Chairperson, Hon. Phil Honeywood and Mrs Muffie Borthwick, wife of the late Bill Borthwick, at a function at the Royal Society of Victoria on 17 April 2015.

Scholarships totalling $14,027 were awarded to seven recipients.

The recipients for the 2015 scholarships are:

Mr Zak Atkins, La Trobe University

"Investigating genetic divergence and habitat connectivity in the conservation of the Guthega skink"

Zak's research for his PhD seeks to understand the relatedness between the Victorian and New South Wales Guthega populations to examine historic connectivity and the degree of divergence. He will also look at the relatedness between the local colonies to assess the species' dispersal ability and identify appropriate management strategies.

Mr Luke Barrett, University of Melbourne

"Ecological effects of an invasive seaweed in Port Phillip Bay"

Luke's PhD research will explore how native fish respond to Undaria, and determine whether Undaria patches in Port Phillip Bay are likely to function as either traps or refuges for native reef fishes. This will be achieved by observing habitat usage patterns and the intersection between attractiveness and quality of the novel habitat.

Ms Emmy Frost, La Trobe University

"Investigating Indigenous occupation and subsistence strategies at a marine shell midden in south-western Victoria"

Emmy's research for her Bachelor of Archaeology (Honours) involves undertaking an analysis of excavate material from the Brown Creek midden and then conducting a fat composition and nutritional analysis of modern shellfish to establish why particular species may have been targeted as a food source. Any changes in subsistence strategies over time will also be observed. This will help to inform human exploitation of marine resources.

Mr Harry Moore, Deakin University

"Fire and its influence on predator prey interactions in Big Desert National Park"

Harry's research for his Bachelor of Environmental Science (Honours) will provide important information on the role that dingos and other wild dogs play in altering the activity of alien mesopredator species. It will also investigate the non-lethal impacts both invasive and native predators have on native rodent species and assess the temporal and spatial relationship present from both a predator and prey perspective with the Mallee guild.

Mr Nicholas O'Brien, Deakin University

"Towards the survival of Mellblom's Spider Orchid – Caladenia hastata"

Nicholas's research project for his Bachelor of Environmental Science (Honours) aims to promote the conservation of Caladenia hastata by facilitating the success of reintroductions into the wild. It will do this by determining if there are any habitat specificities in existing populations, identifying the presence of the pollinator in nearby sites, and determining the genetic variability of the species from known population (wild specimens and propagated specimens).

Ms Melissa Wartman, Monash University

"Phytoplankton vertical migration in the Gippsland lakes"

The aim of Melissa's PhD research will be to investigate factors that cause and influence the vertical migration patterns of phytoplankton in the Gippsland Lakes. The knowledge gained will contribute towards elucidating the abiotic and biotic factors that influence vertical migration, the impact of vertical migration on competition between various species, and potentially quantifying the amount of nutrient redistribution through the water column.

Ms Ann Williamson, Deakin University

"Current status of New Holland Mouse in Eastern Otways"

Ann's research project for Bachelor of Environmental Science (Honours) seeks to find out what the current status and distribution of the New Holland Mouse is in the Anglesea Heathland and Great Otway National Park. This will be achieved by undertaking trapping sessions, floristic and structural analysis and examining the impacts of rainfall variability and fire regimes.
